

“Tambour is a collection of side tables that would fit into almost any setting, next to a faded sofa from the 50’s, or in the sleek lounge of a modern night spot. With this idea in mind, we needed to find a common language that would form the basis for a range of variations and permutations. Tambour tables feature a very industrial design in die-cast aluminium, and are available with one or two tops, and with or without wheels.

We shaped these tables to strike a balance between formal elegance and simplicity, as our aim was to achieve a discretion for this object that has no explicit pretensions of modernity.”

Ronan & Erwan Bouroullec

Ronan and Erwan Bouroullec have been working together for about ten years now. Their collaboration is a permanent dialogue, nourished by their distinct personalities and a shared notion of diligence, with the intention to achieve greater balance and refinement. The Bouroullecs have been working with Magis since 2004, designing two complete furniture collections as well as other projects. These days, Ronan and Erwan Bouroullec design for numerous manufacturers and they also continue to carry out their own experimental activity which is essential to the development of their work at Galerie Kreo, Paris, where four exhibitions of their designs were held between 2001 and 2012. They also embark on occasional architectural projects.
