

The Roof Chair

design Spalvieri & Del Ciotto / 2018

The Roof Chair is a soft, flexible roof on which to sit and watch the world, an object to climb on and slide down, a little house in which to hide and dream, a space for play, a tunnel to go through. For use alone or in company, it can also seat two, one on either side. A game and equally a fun-filled and functional item of furniture, with multiple uses to be discovered one by one, stimulating children's imagination and creativity. Beneath its iconic form lies cutting-edge construction technology. The tubular aluminium frame ensures both absolute lightness and stability, while the upper central crossbar is protected with flexible polyurethane foam padding, and the 3D fabric covering features differentiated load capacity and elasticity, for uncompromisingly comfortable seating.

Spalvieri & Del Ciotto

Spalvieri & Del Ciotto Design Studio was created by Simone Spalvieri and Valentina Del Ciotto as a meeting place for ideas, research and experimentation. Driven by their quest for formal and functional purity, the designers' work is built on the conviction that every design product should offer value as it is handed down to future generations, each one telling the story of a piece of our history and our culture. Through design, they seek to humanize new materials and new technologies, and to promote understanding and use of the most innovative objects.
