

BONALDO

Bernois

Designer: Roberto Paoli

Bernois is the model of the modern sideboard, focused on volumetric and formal simplicity, and enriched thanks to the refinement of a number of small stylistic variations. Roberto Paoli's design is based on the perceptive effects generated by a slight raised relief pattern of the doors: a sequence of vertical "folds" that generate an iridescent interplay of chiaroscuro. The appearance of the furniture thus changes according to the light and the observer's point of view, in line with an aesthetic idea that interprets the dynamic style of contemporary life.
